

Native Connections will be hosting a suicide awareness event. The youth are being invited to make a dream catcher as part of a stress management, to help relieve whatever it may be they are dealing with, while learning their culture.

“Our culture is community. Our community is like a dream catcher. Each strand has its own qualities just as we do. If we lose a strand, it has a direct effect on others. If we notice a strand starting to fray take time to mend it... “
